INDIANA, PA – The Indiana County Fair has long brought the community together with days filled with activities celebrating farming, food, and fun as well as nights filled with the sounds of major musical acts from across the country. This year, things are just a bit different. Don't worry. There will still be the same events we all know and love, but this year's concert series will focus on local and regional acts. This year the musical spotlight is solely on artists specifically from our region!

The "Music Expo with 4-Band Jam", which will be held on Wednesday, August 28th, 2019 at 5:30pm, will feature the following locally-based musical acts:

Summit Church Worship Band – God and Country are things we hold sacred in our community. The Summit Church Worship Band, from right here in Indiana, PA echoes those sentiments entirely. They will open up the show with songs that proudly celebrate and worship God. They believe that being active and vocal residents in our community impacts the lives of all those within our community, while reminding us that we can't live our lives alone.

Andy Davis Band – Andy Davis is a singer and songwriter from Southwestern PA. He mentioned his hometown of Mt. Pleasant and his hit single, "Small Town" in an interview with the Pittsburgh Tribune-Review saying "I've been in Mt. Pleasant since I was 2 days old and I love it there." His outlaw country songwriting is inspired by a variety of sources including other musical artists and his own life experiences. In the same interview he went on to describe his band's style: "Most of our music, at least our originals, is about blue-collar life, and I think everyone in the country/rock genre understands the life we live."

Seven Mile Run – Seven Mile Run is another band from right here in Indiana, PA. They've opened for a lot of big names, but now they're coming home to play the Fair. They play all eras of country music, as well as some southern rock and oldies. In addition to playing covers they also have two albums of original music.

Arena 13 – Arena 13 is a local band who plays all of your arena rock favorites from the 1980s. Paul Hearn leads with vocals and Dave Batistig on lead guitar; Billy Citeroni on keyboard; Dan Rummel on bass; and Rick Topeka on bass, comprise the band that will close out the night.

The admission price of $8 covers both the Fair and the Music Expo with 4 Band Jam. Don't miss a day filled with farming, food and fun, and a night filled with the incredible music from local artists! Come celebrate all that our region has to offer at the Indiana County Fair!
